

Mucor powder

Product Information

Description	Mucor powder is a fine, dry preparation derived from the Mucor genus of fungi. These fungi are commonly found in soil, decaying organic matter, and various food products. The powder form of Mucor is often used in biotechnology, fermentation processes, and traditional medicine.
Form	powder
Activity	2 billion cfu/g
Stability	24 Months
Storage	Recommend storage at frozen temperature (-18 °C) or lower in original, sealed package away from light.
Function	Fermented bean curd production